Frequently it was not possible to supply all the accommodations required, and it may be some time before these tourist facilities will be able to meet the demand.

But what about holiday travel? The season for a great many potential tourists is now making plans for next year's vacation. The majority of them, after years of working in the north, are now planning to visit the north. The majority of them are now planning to visit the north. But now the choice of a number of camping places has increased, and many have been founded. No need to make reservations, and many have been founded.
